1. GENERAL

1.1 CO's NOTES

Parents, thank you so much for a successful party last month. The food was wonderful, and again I cannot thank you enough for all your time in helping with our program!!

**Remember we are spending the night in the barracks this month!!** Bring your sleeping bags and toiletries.

Mandatory attendance for Dress Blues Inspection is scheduled for January 28th, location has not been given at this time, however I do know this is going to be up north somewhere between MCAS, Escondido, or Camp Pendleton. As soon as our RD LCDR Oram puts the word out, we will work out the logistics.

Bring your Dress Blues, so we can work out issues in getting everyone squared away!! Also we will be working on Cadets that do not have their Blues as well.

1.2 REPORTING DRILL ATTENDANCE

Coronado Battalion/Training Ship Bora Bora
PLAN OF THE MONTH

If you have not yet mustered ensure you do so we can properly prepare for meals. To successfully accomplish this you will need to; email the below address, use the correct subject line (e.g. Sea Cadet – Moreno or League Cadet – Earls) and add the content listed below:

Email to: cadet.muster@hotmail.com
Subject: Sea Cadet – Last Name or League Cadet – Last Name
Content: I will be attending all weekend
I will be not attend because (add reason)
I will be departing early at (add time) for (add reason)
I will be arriving late at (add time) for (add reason)

Very Respectfully,

Your rate and name

1.3 REPORTING AT DRILL

With the number of Cadets within our unit, it is important that everyone is aware of proper reporting. To better streamline check-in the following information is provided.

- At 0730, Saturday All Hands Muster
- Make sure you turn in courses!!!
- OPS//Chiefs takes charge with POD
- Blues issues and fixes
- Midday will be pre-inspection

1.4 RATING BADGES AND RIBBONS

When you are promoted you are provided one rating badge (exception to those advancing to E2). You are to return all old rating badges the following drill for exchange when meeting with the Training Officer for course assignments. When you earn a ribbon, it is realized that your ribbon bar needs to be exchanged. You are required to bring your ribbons in the following drill for exchange of the bar for a new one. If the bar is undamaged this is a one for one exchange (no cost to you). In having you bring your ribbons in, this allows you to make sure that all your ribbons look sharp. Be proud of your accomplishments!

2. DRILL

2.1 COURSEWORK AND HOMEWORK

The Naval CNET training portal is down which is preventing grading of coursework. Captain Ford and his team at Headquarters has been consistently working with the Navy to obtain status leading towards resolution. Although this challenge exists, the Navy feels confident the problem will be cleared soon. Continue to turn in assigned coursework at the beginning of drill so you do not fall behind. If you are unable to complete it prior to drill you will be afforded time during drill to complete it. Additionally, if you have homework we would much rather have you attend with your homework and time will be provided rather than you missing drill which impacts your attendance and ability to remain in the program. For questions regarding coursework assignment email the Training Officer at training@coronadobattalion.org.

2.2 PROPER PT GEAR

Sk8r shoes are not authorized at drill. Proper tennis/gym shoes are required. This is a safety requirement. If you bring sk8r or heellies you will be counseled.

3. BEYOND

3.1. MARK YOUR CALENDAR

12 February is scheduled for a day of great fun at North Island, parade of flights and many tours on ships will be available, you do not want to miss this great opportunity.

3.2. VISITORS

Please notify the Recruiting Officer, Mrs. Jennifer Garibay (rec\_corbor@hotmail.com), of any potential visitors at least ten days prior to drill weekend. Visitors contacting the Recruiting Officer should plan on arriving at 0730 on Saturday of Drill weekends.
